LABOR NEWS

Clash—Asking for a Raise.
CHICAGO, Ill., April 29.—The Seamen's Union has taken up the challenge thrown out by the vessel owners of the great lakes at their meeting here last night. The union leaders declare, enable them to lessen the power which the organization has possessed for years. Last night a largely attended meeting was held for the purpose of discussing the union's demand for a 10 per cent increase in wages. Crushing the union was resolved upon. President Elderton ridiculed the notion of owners establishing bureaus for the employment of seamen when they themselves had established one. The union's demand for a 10 per cent increase of wages was one of the things which the "masters' association announce their intention to refuse. The union's demand for a bureau a per capita tax of 4 cents per tonnage is to be levied on the companies representing 100,000 tons of tonnage. The union's demand for a total of $25,000 a year. Union men can only secure employment on giving up their cardinal principle of non-competition. The union is the regulation of wages and the preference for union men. Police guarded the schooner William B. Ogden while she discharged her cargo of lumber in the South Branch yesterday. She had a non-union crew and the Captain was afraid the union committees would drive the men off.

ASKING FOR A RAISE.

WILKESBARR, Pa., April 29.—Grand Chief Conductor E. E. Clark, of the Order of Railroad Conductors, had a conference yesterday with General Manager Halstead of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad at Scranton. He asked for an increase in wages for the conductors of 10 per cent., their wages having been reduced that amount some time ago and never restored. Manager Halstead

REPORTERS FORMING A UNION.
NEW YORK, April 29.—A meeting of reporters on daily papers of this city was held yesterday at the Astor House. The object of

The meeting was to form an organization in connection with the International Typographical Union, whereby reporters could get better wages and less hours and escape some of the grievances which they complained of from managing city editors. The meeting was addressed by James McKenna, First Vice-President of the International Typographical Union; Charles J. Dumas and Edmund Beardsley. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws and apply for a charter in conformity with the

GOOD TEMPLARS INDIGNANT.

Maine's Chief Executive Comes in for Severe Criticism.

BANGOR, Me., April 29.—The Grand Lodge of Good Templars, which closed its session here yesterday, adopted strong resolutions denouncing the action of Chief Justice Peters of the Maine Supreme Court at the February criminal term of court held here, wherein hundreds of liquor sellers were indicted under the nuisance act. The offenders were not given the imprisonment prescribed in the act, but were fined. The Good Templars pledge themselves to use all their influence to secure a legislative inquiry concerning the action of the judge at the coming session of the Legislature.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri and Southern Illinois: Fair and warmer till Saturday night.

An area of high pressure now covers the central valley accompanied by fair weather and generally cloudless skies. East of the Mississippi and south of Missouri the temperature has fallen decidedly, with light frosts as far south as Northern Missouri and Southern Illinois. Rains occurred yesterday in Texas, the Mississippi Valley from Missouri westward and east of the Mississippi to the coast, but clearing conditions now extend westward to the Allegheny Mountains. In Wyoming and westward to the Pacific Coast another barometric depression is forming, which is causing southerly winds and warmer weather from Kansas westward. Already cloudy conditions prevail in South Dakota, Northern Nebraska, Western Iowa and portions of Minnesota, showing that condensation is already taking place in advance of the low area, which will probably continue, causing rain in that section to-morrow, and farther eastward as the storm progresses.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for St. Louis: Fair; warmer.

The combine with DALTON is still being used to advantage by NOONAN as a means of obscuring his own defeat.

A SPECTACLE worth remembering is a Missouri Republican convention in which CHAUNCEY I. FILLIE was not a delegate.

THE most gratifying result of the Democratic primaries was the evidence that NOONAN was a dead weight to DALTON.

THE result of Wednesday's primary was a good enough warning of NOONAN not to ask the Democrats of this city for official honors.

THE nomination of WARNER shows that the Republicans mean business this year. The campaign will not be a political picnic for the Democrats.

ONLY one candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination is sure of carrying his own State. GORMAN is the "logical candidate" of those who insist upon this test.

THE Democratic State convention will be to a certain extent controlled by the Republicans, that is to say, it will be forced to nominate a good man for Governor.

"IF CLEVELAND is nominated no power on earth can prevent Illinois from going Democratic," says Senator PALMER. This from such a campaigner is as good as a guarantee.

THE New York Republican Convention did not instruct for HARRISON. The Empire State delegates will be sold en bloc to the candidate who will pay most in patronage and power to THOMAS C. PLATT.

THE State Republican Convention has a fine example of political joinery in its platform. It contains one resolution endorsing the McKinley law and another denouncing those twin fruits of it, monopolies and trusts.

JUDGING from present appearances bosses' quarrels in the Democratic party should be composed. Nobody but CLEVELAND seems to be in it. The fight between GORMAN, HILL, WHITNEY and CAMPBELL is postponed until 1896.

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH accepts advertising on a distinct and unequivocal guarantee that its circulation in the City of St. Louis and suburbs is more than double that of the "Republic" and larger than any other Sunday newspaper.

CONGRESSMAN BLAND and other ardent free silver men think that the failure of the Democrats to pass the silver bill will result in heavy losses to the party in the South. The failure of the bill is undoubtedly a sore disappointment to many Democrats in the South and West, but he is a poor free coinage man and a poorer Democrat who would, because of this disappointment, help the Republican bug and protectionists to retain control of the Government.

GEN. PALMER'S POSITION.

The envious MORRISON and the small group of back-number politicians he controls have been industriously casting slurs on Gen. PALMER by intimating that he has been playing a double game; that while openly advocating the nomination of CLEVELAND he has been secretly harboring and furthering a design to use the Illinois delegation as a means of securing the Presidential nomination for himself.

The best answer to those insinuations is found in Senator PALMER's cordial endorsement of the resolutions of the State Democratic Convention and his own utterances with regard to the situation as to CLEVELAND and himself. When asked if Illinois would go Democratic next fall he replied:

"If the convention nominate Cleveland no power on earth can prevent it. I am sure of it. It will be a proud day for me when it does. I had rather help carry Illinois for Cleveland than be President. I should feel more satisfaction from the result. I am a seeker for the presidency. I have never been, as you know, I have never expressed an utterance since I came here that could be construed. It is not that I do not appreciate the high honor conferred by the office, but simply because I believe that Cleveland is the choice of the people and I always believe in giving the people just what they want."

"Will the Illinois delegation cast her vote for Cleveland on the first ballot?"

"It will if by so doing Cleveland can be nominated."

There is no uncertain ring in these words. Gen. PALMER is for CLEVELAND first. He is willing to work for his nomination and devote himself heart and soul to the campaign should he be nominated.

He plainly says that he does not seek the presidency and prefers CLEVELAND above himself. The action of the convention itself, which was controlled by Gen. PALMER's friends, and his own statement that CLEVELAND is the strongest man that could be nominated for Illinois, when it is well known that PALMER has good ground to dispute that claim with CLEVELAND or any other man, demonstrates his sincerity.

The Illinois Democrats have been guided by wise counsels. Without instructing for CLEVELAND they express their preference for him first and for their favorite son next. The endorsing resolutions are so worded that the Illinois delegates need not feel bound to support either against considerations of party interest. They are in a measure free to exercise their judgment and if they should find a man as well representing Democratic principles and issues, but better filling the demands of leadership, there is no question that PALMER and the party of the State would endorse their choice and would bend their energies to carrying Illinois for Democracy.

CITY COUNSELOR MARSHALL gives the opinion that the duties of the Recorder of Voters in the matter of canvassing the returns of the primary election are ministerial. It will be noted that this opinion is in line with the wishes of the hoodlum bosses, who are anxious to have the races perpetrated in the election protected from investigation, and that it is put forward at the time to do the most good. The City Counselor's "opinions" serve as an excellent index of hoodlum wishes and designs. They bear the marks of decision made and carefully fitted to the order of a caucus of law doggers and ballot-box stuffers.

ONE of the most noticeable and excellent points in the resolutions of the Illinois Democracy is the absence in them of any reference to or conformity with the views of a man named BILL MORRISON, whose official salary enables him to give a great deal of time to posing as a representative statesman and trying to keep any one else from getting anything. The dog in the Democratic manger of Illinois has been so thoroughly squelched that he is hardly able to whine.

The rumors set afloat every day of dissatisfaction with President HARRISON as a candidate point to the pitiful fact that his party would like a bigger man if he was to be had. Either MCKINLEY, REED or QUAY would fill the bill in respect to size, but other conditions not necessary to mention make the nomination of either an impossibility. Mr. HARRISON is a man of destiny. All politicians living in doubtful States are men of destiny.

THE man who asks the Democratic convention for the gubernatorial nomination should be able to show that he can meet WARNER on the stump and get some falls in the wrestle. He must combine both popularity and ability to save the party's credit and majority. WARNER is an able and adroit campaigner and it takes something better than a yaller dog or a milled "war horse" to keep up with him.

AN English journal remarks that there is a great deal in WHITMAN which cannot be found in MILTON or SHAKESPEARE. Americans will concede this with pleasure, but not, perhaps, in the sense of the English critic. By the way, why is it that Americans who are not considered respectable at home enjoy the most vogue in England?

THE real strength of the Reading "combine" arises from the control it possesses over the production of anthracite coal. The report that it is acquiring the absolute ownership of all the mines is only what might have been expected, and when this purpose is accomplished scarcity prices will be the rule. Supply will be adapted to demand, not according to the need of the people, but according to the greed of the monopolists.

SENATOR PALMER's blood is up. No one who reads the interview published in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH can doubt that the old fighter will make things interesting for Illinois Republicans this year, and that he would rather stump the State for CLEVELAND than be the nominee himself.

Tax-Made Barons.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Mr. Aldrich's denials that the rich are growing richer and the poor poorer comes from being an Congressman of the high tariff class and making many high tariff speeches showing how the tariff has raised wages to himself, to Andrew Carnegie, to the protected trusts that abound in this country. He is a recent Congressman from New York City last year. Does that not show that there is plenty of power in New York? The editor of the Arena says that as long as we have the present system of indirect taxation, money must be made by the rich and charity inclined. Mr. Aldrich is one of those who receive the benefit of indirect taxation, although he is a Republican. He is the slave owner of the slave before the war.

The Baron Challenged.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I paid a visit to Mr. Niedringhaus' tin plate factory a few weeks ago and saw sights that would have been sufficient to make another chapter of Dante's "Inferno." I saw men and boys standing by and over hot furnaces, from which were arising the noxious fumes of the acid used in the dipping of the plates. The day was cold, but for all that it was impossible for me to stand by the side of one of those furnaces any length of time. Heat must be a hot summer's day. That people can be hired to do such work for the low wages they receive, is a sign of the terrible condition of the poor. And it is to establish a few more such mills, and to drive more every man, woman and child is taxed on every article of tin plate in use. But, forsooth, the tariff is a few more like him would grow richer than ever; therefore, hurrah for Protection.

Mr. Niedringhaus told me that the rich are not growing richer and the poor poorer, and he even violates his own oath of office, which is to lay and child is taxed on every article of tin plate in use. But, forsooth, the tariff is a few more like him would grow richer than ever; therefore, hurrah for Protection.

COLLINSVILLE MINERS STRIKE.
Prospect of It Spreading to All the Consolidated Coal Co.'s Mines.

The miners of Collinsville, Ill., are still out on a strike and the situation presents quite an ugly appearance. Joe Wilson and John Haddfield, the Labor Committee appointed by the miners' union to consult with the Attorney General, have not been reinstated and the strike is spreading. The strikers insist that their wages must be paid to them weekly, as the law directs, or a general strike will be called and every mine in Illinois will be shut down. A meeting will be held this afternoon among the miners and if the Consolidated Coal Co. of this city refuses to reinstate the discharged employees and to comply with the law in regard to the payment of their wages, they will at once proceed to carry out their threat. The grievance has been conveyed to all the miners in Illinois, and it is highly probable that a general strike participated in by thousands of miners will ensue if the Consolidated Coal Co. does not see fit to accede to the demands of its employees.

A reporter of the Post-Dispatch called at the office of the Consolidated Coal Co. this morning but Manager J. C. Simpson was not in. The office employees did not know where he could be found, did not know when he would return and no one in the office appeared to be aware of the fact that a very ugly strike was being waged.

The general impression is that Mr. Simpson was called to Collinsville to consult with Supt. Fletcher in regard to the trouble now going on.

The miners employed by the Consolidated Coal Co. in Staunton do not seem to be the least disturbed at the strike in Collinsville. The mines in this city pay every month, but company makes advances to the miners at any time before the regular pay day. Some of our miners get part of their pay every week. Our miners are all satisfied and no trouble is anticipated.

Bitten by Dogs.

John Stagl of 578 Evans avenue and Frank Decker of 123 Chestnut street were summoned this morning to appear before Judge Morris on a charge of keeping vicious dogs. Stagl's dog is said to have bitten Roter Wickard, an 8-year-old boy, who was with his mother, Mrs. C. H. Wickard, who lives next door to Mrs. Stagl, when the dog ran after them and bit the boy in the leg. The victim of Mr. Decker's dog was an Italian boy named Stephen, who lives at 1612 Pine street, and was going through the alley in the rear of Mr. Decker's residence when the dog attacked him. Both cases are to be heard next Tuesday and another dog case set for the same day is one against W. P. Doran, whose place of business is at 78 Chestnut street. Mr. Doran lives at Benton and his dog is said to have bitten Mrs. V. Chamberlain, who has an office in the Odd Fellows' Building. The summons against Mr. Doran was served last night.

Hair-Pulling Scrap.

Clerk Keating of the First District Police Court issued a summons this morning for the arrest of Mrs. Bridget Murphy of 1464 Austin street and Mrs. Joseph White, whose residence was stated to be the Southern Hotel. They are charged with pulling out the hair of Mrs. Annie Power of 1409 Papin street. Mrs. Power told Mr. Keating that the two women called at her house and choked her, pulled her hair and scratched her face, and threw her down and kicked her, and beat her while she was down. The trouble, she says, all grew out of some uncomplimentary remarks one of the women made about her husband, Mr. Power. The case is set for next Tuesday.

The best assortment of baby carriages and the lowest prices in the city can be found at the Simmons Hardware Co.

Returned With His Father.

Austin F. Webb, the 13-year-old boy, who ran away from his home at Macon, Mo., and came to this city, is found. He called at the Laclede Hotel last night, where his father was stopping, and, after a short conversation, returned home last night with his parents. After running away on March 14, he bought a new suit of clothes. Arriving in this city, he saw by the paper that the police were looking for him and changed his name to Guy Harris.

Used a Club.

Josiah King, a colored man, was sent to the City Hospital about midnight last night with a battered head and face, having been clubbed by Henry Baker, also colored, at the latter's home, No. 1422 Michigan avenue. Baker, who is under arrest, claimed that King struck his wife, Mrs. Baker. King's injuries are considered serious.

About a Woman.

In an altercation at Fourteenth and Wash streets last night, over Annie Golden, a notorious woman on O'Fallon street, George Thorn shot Tom, alias "Tuck," Ryan in the right thigh. Thorn escaped. Ryan was removed to the City Hospital via the Dispensary. His wound is not serious.

REAL ESTATE INTERESTS.

A SYNDICATE'S PURCHASE OF SUBURBAN ACRE PROPERTY FOR $200,000.

Page Avenue, West of the City Limits, a New Field for New Development—Heavy Sales in the Fullerton Tract—Other Minor Transactions.

Monday next a syndicate which has purchased a tract of 25 acres of land on the north line of Page avenue, will be organized by the election of officers at the real estate office of Nicholas & Ritter. The property is located about half a mile west of the city limits. It embraces a part of the old Kingsland homestead, the Bradford tract and the Wash farm, the purchase price for it being $200,000 or $255 an acre, according to Mr. Nicholas' calculation less than $5 a foot. The syndicate buying this property will be organized with a cash capital of $75,000, of which amount $15,000 is to be expended for improvements. The gentlemen who constitute the syndicate, in which about $60,000 has already been subscribed, are: Messrs. Chas. K. Hamsey, John O. Ockerson, Robert G. Hogan, E. H. Bennett, J. E. Comford, Samuel G. Fowler, B. M. Crow, Withrow Bartlett, Francis Kuhn, F. C. Robbins, Geo. Kingsland and John Boyle.

This is a strong combination of well known wealthy men, prominent bankers, leading manufacturers and active business men being included in the list of subscribers to the stock. Mr. Nicholas has done well to interest such parties in real estate. In fact he has been very successful in the management and sale of property for syndicates. It was he who organized the Forest Park place syndicate, which is now about winding up, having realized for his clients in that transaction $7,000 for each of the 15 lots a foot on it. It has only been a few weeks since Mr. Nicholas secured an option to purchase the 254 acres of Page avenue property, and he is very emphatic in the statement that if the option had not been secured the land could not be purchased to-day for less than $1,000 to $1,500 an acre, the prevailing price at present. He says the tract occupies an elevated position as compared to the site of Mount Auburn, two of the highest points in the city. The tract fronts on the line of Page avenue and the south line of the property, to connect with the St. Louis & Suburban, has already been laid, and Mr. Nicholas says $25,000 have already been expended in the construction of an independent electric power station to operate this Page avenue railway, which is to be in running order early next month. Considering its natural and quiet surroundings, Mr. Nicholas thinks the property is very cheap and that his syndicate will realize a profit of $5 to $10 a foot on it within a reasonably short time.

In Gen. Fullerton's subdivision.

James M. Becher reports the following sales of property in Gen. Joseph S. Fullerton's subdivision, east of Taylor avenue:

To Asbell Fields, 1118 feet in block 293, fronting on Westminster place, for $2,000.

James L. LaFleur of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., 80x145 on Westminster place, for $2,000.

Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Nicollis, 60x140 feet on the south side of Westminster place, between Boyle and Newstead avenues, for $2,000.

J. C. Somerville, 60x145 feet on the north side of Westminster place, between Newstead and Taylor avenues, for $2,000.

J. W. Van Cleave, Manager Buck Stove & Range Co., 60x145 feet on the north side of Westminster place, between Newstead and Taylor avenues, for $2,000.

Art J. R. Laughlin of the firm of Carpenter & Co., says there are now eight houses in the course of construction on Gen. Fullerton's place, and plans for five others finished ready to let contracts for building.

The Nicholas-Ritter Realty & Financial Co. report the sale to John King, a lot of ground on the north line of Vernon avenue, sixty feet front by 140 feet deep, 250 feet east of Belt avenue, at $7 per foot, from C. G. Cloud of McLeansboro, Ill. This is the property Mr. Cloud bought at auction some few months ago at $50 per front foot.

THE MOUNT GAMBLE AUCTION.

Commencing to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, upon the premises, the Hammett-Anderson-Wade Real Estate Co. will sell at auction fifty-six lots including after the following:

1. In the Mount Gamble subdivision, fronting on Goodfellow, Shawmut, Blackstone and Clark avenues, between Wells avenue on the north and Julia avenue on the south.

2. Page, Minerva and Ridge avenues run through the property and it is as pretty and high as any residence lots to be found anywhere in the city limits.

3. The property is to be boulevard and that improvement will give additional importance to the whole tract.

4. Chamberlain, who lives at 1612 Pine street, and was going through the alley in the rear of Mr. Decker's residence when the dog attacked him.

5. Both cases are to be heard next Tuesday and another dog case set for the same day is one against W. P. Doran, whose place of business is at 78 Chestnut street.

Plus and Minus.

Every schoolboy knows what these signs mean—plus makes, minus loses. We let you work on the plus side. Sell you a Boy's Suit worth $7.50 for $5; that pluses you $2.50. A Man's Suit worth $30 at $20; that pluses you $10; and right on up in any price Suits in the same ratio.

That pluses pretty fast, don't it? Of course it does. But that's the ratio of saving you make when you buy of the manufacturers. Lots of new people are finding out our plus way of doing business and bringing their friends. There is no mistake as to these signs. They are the signs of the times, and we are up with the times in Fighting Politicians Fined.

Edward Maher, William and Joseph McDowell and William Wilcox tried to subvert the proceedings last Saturday during the Republican primaries at the polling booth in St. Louis.

Officers Kegan, Haggerty and Crossy lodged charges in the case for fighting and loquacious, and to-day Judge Frazon fined them $5 apiece.

Jacob Gardner, a peddler, annoyed Private Watchman H. M. McMillan by repeated visits to his house, and the private watchman finally arrested him on a charge of peddling without a license. Gardner pleaded that his business was to change rags and was for old clothes. He claimed that he was not therefore a peddler. Judge Frazon fined him $5. He turned it on a promise to secure a license.
